

RAZIEL

Ignorance is not a viable defense Mr. Croft. In the 3rd dimension isn't it your responsibility to know the laws of a different country when you visit it?

COLIN

Well yes, but I don't see how that applies here.

RAZIEL

That is your problem.

COLIN

Your honor we can't be held liable. We didn't even know your world existed, let alone that the chambers could do that.

KRINGLE

That's not entirely correct your honor. I've got a witness that will testify that Mr. Crofts children, Ethan and Allison attempted to tell their father the significance of the chamber, even pointing out the fact that it rested on ley lines.

COLIN

This is ridiculous, I can't be expected to believe that the imaginations of my children are based in any fact.

DANIEL

Mr. Kringle slapped a hand on his forehead and just shook it. Colin's answer caused another uproar in the crowd, an almost simultaneous gasp of disbelief. Raziel narrowed his eyes angrily.

KRINGLE

Perhaps you should learn to do just that Mr. Croft.

RAZIEL

Let me get this straight. Ley lines and their intersection points resonate a special psychic or mystical energy, a fact that has been documented by multiple, intelligent sources in the 3rd dimension, and you think they only exist in your children's imagination?

COLIN

It's pseudo science.

RAZIEL

Oh is it now? Then do explain how you came to be here Mr. Croft. Go ahead, I'm waiting. Please dazzle us with your intelligence.

NIA

Your honor, what my husband is trying to say-

RAZIEL

I'm well aware of what your husband is trying to say Mrs. Croft. Do yourself a favor and shut him up because he's done nothing to help the charges against you.

NIA

Yes your honor.

KRINGLE

I'm afraid I'll have to add them to my naughty list, your honor.
