Audio Dramas by Women

(That men love too!)

Tales of the Forgotten is run by two diverse women who have an ongoing love affair with a good story. We create and produce original and fandom audio dramas, along with tabletop shows.

Our stories are told through the female gaze. They are written with strong female protagonists and villains, and celebrate diversity in our casting, and through our characters.

Tabletop & Fandom 2027 & onward

Inspired by Critical Role and Tablestory, our TTRPG stories go farther. Not only will we stream live on Youtube, but we will heavily edit our sessions and include sfx and music for release as a podcast series.

We'll target the Dragon Age Fandom with a 6 episode tale called Her Story that takes place in the Dragon Age Inquisition Universe.

Target Market

Tales stories are made for Adult Women & Men Ages 35 - 59.

1

Romance Erotic #1

There is a reason romance remains one of the top selling book genres. The success of Fifty Shades of Gray (3 movies) and Bridgerton on Netflix provides a very distinctive target market for Tales After Dark.

2

The Resurgence of Horror, Scifi, and Fantasy

Horror fans are dedicated year round. Scifi and Fantasy are two genres that audiences always flock too. This ensures our shows will continue to get downloads long after they're done.

3

Everyone Loves Vampires

Twilight. Lestat. Even Morbius. The Vampire genre never gets stale for audiences.

Marketing Strategy

Short Form Video Content

Daily postings on TikTok, Youtube Shorts, and Instagram Reels to get the most exposure for Tales shows.

Community Building

Live events streamed on Youtube such as Live Listens to episodes, gaming nights with VAs and an active Discord community turns listeners into superfans.

Multi-platform Advertising

Traditional advertising in other podcasts, Facebook and Google Ads for shows in the most popular genres.

Revenue Streams

The Tales Network has a diverse and effective revenue generation strategy, leveraging the power of traditional advertising, memberships, and the power of each shows IP.

Podcast Advertising

CPM/1000 listens is between $15 - $30 for pre-recorded ads up to 60 seconds. Host reads are $25 - 40 CPM. These ads are placed in pre and mid roll slots per episode. Additionally we can collect paid sponsorships from brands.

Memberships

Fool & Scholar Productions a similar Audio Drama Organization makes up to $17,000 per month from it's membership. We can easily emulate their success with the same offerings.

IP Revenue

Every Tales Network show will be turned into an paperback, ebook, and audiobook. The wildly successful audio drama, Welcome to Nightvale has done this effectively. Additionally every original show can be optioned for TV or Film.
